I am a Director of Photography shooting in London and across the UK. I work in commercial and narrative video content production for creative agencies, brands, musicians and corporates. I have experience as a DOP in lighting and filming commercials, branded content, case study/testimonial pieces and also work with musicians on promotional films and music videos. I come from a background in photography and continue to shoot still images. My experience in lighting and composition informs my motion work, as does my unquenching thirst for beautiful light and evocative images that serve a story. As well as commercials, I am currently developing my work in fiction and am looking to talk with Directors and Producers developing drama projects. As of November 2022, post-production wrapped on independent short Call Me Back. The film stars Lindsay Duncan (Birdman, About Time, A Discovery of Witches), with support from Sophia Myles (Tristan & Isolde, Transformers, Age of Extinction), and voiceover from Jim Broadbent.

Skillset and Qualities

Problem Solving / Finding practical, creative and budget friendly solutions to the challenges on set is just one of the joys of filmmaking but often one of the most important qualities that I take pride in and always strive to develop.

Preparation / Over time I have learned that prep is key to smooth and successful projects. Problems will always present themselves but diligence in the pre-production schedule to mitigate potential issues is invaluable. Fix it in prep!

Proficiency / I am always looking to learn about emerging technologies and techniques so that I have a contemporary knowledge base to compliment my existing experience. Additionally, I like to surround myself with others that know more than me. Having strong collaborators can only make me work better.

Communication / Clear, polite and timely communication equals a well-informed crew and enables them to work to the best of their ability in a prompt, effective and safe manner.

Inclusive / In life and in work I really value spending time with and learning from others of all backgrounds, race and gender. Having a diverse team around me serves to enhance everyone's experience, offers a different point of view and increases human connection, empathy and respect.

Passionate / Every project I am fortunate enough to work on I always feel so lucky. What a way to spend your time working in a field that is so immersive and exciting. I wouldn't get up in the middle of the night for a 15 hour day doing anything else.

Respectful / Everybody involved in a project is important, is doing their best to make something great and should be treated as such. Looking out for others and treating colleagues fairly and kindly is paramount.

Detail Oriented / If something is worth doing it is worth doing well. Through preparation, care and attention to detail I strive to find as elegant a way I can to serve a project.

Virtual Production

I have lit projects across 2020/2021 with Final Pixel, Treehouse Digital and The BBC utilising virtual production LED volume technology, as popularised by The Mandalorian. I am building a strong understanding of blending the Unreal Engine VP with the physical set environment.

Testimonials

“Adam is a rare breed and has very swiftly become my go to DP. His attention to detail and creative eye have become an essential part of my own creative process and his involvement only elevates the projects we are lucky enough to work on. Above this though, he is genuine and incredibly passionate about his craft, something that has a massive impact both on myself and the wider team. This man will continue to grow and will inevitably achieve incredible things.”

Tom Andrews - Director

“Adam Prosser is a thoroughly lovely chap to work with. His mild-mannered proficiency provides a calm professionalism which imbues any set he works on with a real sense that you're in safe hands. His lighting is consistently beautiful and thoughtfully created. On the most recent 5 day shoot we worked on together we had the luxury of a Prelight, and as a result the lighting changes were minimal, and efficiently planned and executed. His approach is considered and his demeanour is adorably polite. He very much lives up to the HOD responsibility of helping create a vibe on set which is welcoming for all crew.”

Micki Colker-Pearlman - 1st Assistant Director

“Adam is a total joy to work with-he's worked with us on a couple of projects and each time has given it everything and made it the best it can be. He has great contacts and suggestions for how to ensure a smooth running production. From supporting with pre-prod, attending reces and going the extra mile throughout, Adam adds huge value. All this on top of being an excellent DOP. Looking forward to the next project!”
